

Meeting with David Corona (ProComputing) to Review Promethean Board Support

Frankie Jackson met with David Corona on January 27, 2017 to review the support we are receiving for our Promethean board technology installations and service. David is the project manager for ProComputing, the service provider for installing and supporting our Promethean boards. During the meeting they talked about the importance of staying on schedule and communicating all deliveries to Jay Johnson's Acquisition, Assets, and Sustainability team.
