Attendees: Frankie Jackson, Paula Ross, Larry Barrios, John Crumbley, Jay Johnson, Jennifer Miller, James Costello, Norma Blenderman, Eric May, Rodney White, David Deitsch, Michelle Campos, Polly Gifford (EPS)

I. Call to order

Michelle Campos is working on RFP 18-06-7180R (Intrusion Detection and Prevention Systems). Michelle called the meeting to order with attendees, including Polly Gifford (EPS)

II. Purpose of the Meeting

The evaluation team has narrowed down the products to Trend Micro and Traps based on the proof of concepts. The purpose of the meeting is to determine next steps.

III. Meeting Discussions

- a) Reviewed the cost and proposed contract years of the two products.

Years	Trend Micro	Traps
1	$263,910.00	$283,658.82
3	$791,730.00	$694,347.06
5	$1,319,550.00	$874,086.85

- b) Frankie asked who else is using the products and for how long. She also asked what capabilities or risk mitigation would the recommended product provide over and above Windows defender. She asked what the impact is if we don't purchase a product at this time. Larry Barrios took the action to research and provide a summary.
- c) Other team members including Polly Gifford asked how this RFP selection would impact other needs at the enterprise level, e.g. firewalls, content filtering, security intrusion, etc. Determined after some discussion that the RFP would be placed on hold until these answers could be considered into the overall evaluation criteria and scope of the purpose.
