

2018

TEXAS ASSOCIATION OF SCHOOL ADMINISTRATORS

MIDWINTER CONFERENCE

AUSTIN, TX ■ JANUARY 28 - 31

On Monday through Wednesday, January 28-30, 2018, Frankie Jackson and Jennifer Miller attended the Texas Association for School Administrators (TASA) MidWinter conference. In addition to attending the conference activities, they were there to represent the Texas K-12 Chief Technology Officer (CTO) council. This was the first year that the council had a dedicated strand of sessions at the conference. Of the 7 sessions, 4 sessions were led by Cy-Fair ISD with Frankie and Jennifer presenting. Needless to say, we are proud!

TASA Daily
National, State, and Local Education News
Texas Association of School Administrators

Midwinter Conference Update

Texas K-12 CTO Council to Offer Technology Strand at 2018 Midwinter Conference
The Texas K-12 CTO Council, the premier organization for chief technology officers in Texas schools, will hold its Winter Meeting 2018 in conjunction with the TASA Midwinter Conference on Sunday, January 28, at the Hilton Austin. The Council will present a special technology strand during the conference, with sessions including:

- Road to Digital Recovery after Harvey
- Joining Together to Protect Student Data – TX Student Data Privacy Alliance
- Student Data Privacy and Security: Building a Trusted Learning Environment (TLE)
- What Your Technology Leader Should Know
- Empowered Superintendents: Leading Digital Transformation
- Social Engineering – What Every Administrator and Employee Should Know!
- Building Your District's Technology Learning Environment with a Seal of Approval

Plan to bring your chief technology officers with you to the Midwinter Conference and take advantage of these special presentations!

Recognition at the State and National Level

The full trip report is here.