Reflections

Acquisition, Assets, and Sustainability

As we start to bring this school year to a close, it makes me think about all of the things we have accomplished. The Technology team has completed many of its projects, but there is still much to do. As we start our summer work projects, we will need to stay focused on what we do and how it will help our students to achieve their goals. Our goal is to provide the Technology equipment and services so all of the students will have another successful school year for the 2017-2018 school year.
