

Greg Rhodes, Ken Gibson, Nelda Hanzi, Mike Diaz, Mike Raspet, and Lance Melancon Complete a Microsoft Server 2012 Class

Talk about striving to be “highly skilled” and taking it seriously! That’s what Greg Rhodes, Ken Gibson, Nelda Hanzi, Mike Diaz, Mike Raspet, and Lance Melancon are doing by completing an online Microsoft Server 2012 class, presented by StormWind trainer, Will Panek.

Ken Gibson, Nelda Hanzi, Mike Dias, Mike Raspet, and Lance Melancon (Greg Rhodes not pictured)

It takes a conscious effort to invest in oneself and stay relevant in this industry as “highly-skilled.” This class took two weeks to complete. They took it online during their lunch, together in a conference room. The class taught them new skills in Active Directory, DHCP, DNS, and Hyper-V, and will lead them to one of three classes in the Microsoft MCSA certification path.

Examples of Core Value Highly-Skilled

- ✓ Keeping skills current in assigned area of expertise, maintaining certifications, and proactively participating in professional development
- ✓ Mastering new technical knowledge and skills necessary to provide extraordinary service

What an example of true professionals!
Thank you for striving to be highly-skilled so you may better serve our staff and students.