

Texas Association of School Business Officials (TASBO) Professional Certification Committee Meeting

Serving as the vice chairman of the Texas Association of School Business Officials (TASBO) professional certification committee, Frankie Jackson participated in the annual professional certification committee meeting on Tuesday, October 18, 2016. The meeting was held in Sugarland, Texas.

The TASBO certification program is designed to educate those seeking excellence in their profession and also to recognize standards of professional competence in the business of school operations. Three levels of professional certification are available for school finance and operations professionals in the state of Texas. The committee's focus is to set paths to certification, provide members options to continue their education, stay current on ever-changing regulations and best practices to become a recognized leader in our field.

TASBO certification ensures members have the practical, day-to-day knowledge that is needed to be successful in a Texas public or charter district.

The table shown to the right are the areas discussed in the committee meeting.
