

Transforming Education

Rodney White

Rodney White hosted a conference call with Lenovo Stoneware on Thursday December 17, 2015. Rodney was joined by Lee Honeycutt, Richard Hoffman and John Crumbley to discuss how CFISD can deliver digital textbooks using Stoneware's my.cfisd.net portal.

It is CFISD's desire to deliver student's their textbooks, and only their textbooks, using single-signon technology in a secure portal. Currently, students have to select different websites for each textbook and are required to login to each site individually. CFISD's vision will create a unique custom portal for every student every day that will contain an icon for each textbook that student needs to compete their education. When a student selects an icon, the system will automatically log them in and forward them to the digital textbook.

Rodney's vision is transforming education.
