

End of Week Reflections

Week Ending June 26, 2015

Reflecting on this week's accomplishment made me think about what we still need to do. With the Board approving the Mobile Device RFP, my teams' work will start in earnest. We will be working on the replacement equipment orders and providing technology for Woodard. - Jay

As I reflect on the week, I find myself overwhelmed with a sense of pride for the accomplishments that the week brought. Though the work seems overwhelming, and at times impossible, it is at these moments that the technology team comes together and performs at exceptional performance levels and accomplished the impossible.

- John Crumbley

Visiting campuses at Bleyl and Dean middle schools, and Cy-Fair and Cy-Woods high schools this week was exhilarating. As I talked to our customers and they expressed their appreciation for our work and commented on the professionalism of our staff, I was filled with pride and gratitude. As we work through the 2014 Bond and close out the 2014-2015 budget year and school year – all with perfection and on schedule, I reflect on the deepest sense of appreciation. Saying thank you is the mightiest prayer of all. With the utmost sincerity, I am blessed for all that you do and say Thank you! - Frankie Jackson

Each week our department prides on providing service enrichments not previously accomplished. The teamwork this week between multiple teams was amazingly over the top. Multiple teams found new ways to provide out of this world service. Our teams never stop looking for the next new opportunity!!!

- Jennifer Miller

Larry Barrios